

CY2023 Training with Industry Selections

It is my pleasure to announce the officers selected for the CY2023 Training With Industry (TWI) Program. TWI is a 12-month program providing Supply Corps lieutenants and lieutenant commanders with the opportunity to represent the United States Navy while serving in fellowships with some of the nation's top corporations. Officers selected for this program will be exposed to executive-level decision making and expand their professional supply chain and logistics education. Navy leadership will leverage learning and knowledge gained by these officers during their fellowship in order to improve Navy's end-to-end supply chain effectiveness.

The officers selected are:

Starbucks Coffee Company (Seattle, Washington) LCDR Zeferino Cortesrodriguez, Naval Postgraduate School (NPS)

The Home Depot (Atlanta, Georgia) LCDR Lucas J. Horan, NPS

ExxonMobil (Houston, Texas) LCDR Michael J. Barton, PG University of Kansas

FedEx (Memphis, Tennessee) LCDR Peter M. Kojm, NAVSUP WSS Philadelphia

General Alternates:

LCDR Anthony F. Meyer, USS Carl Vinson (CVN 70)

LCDR Andrew P. Stillerman, PG University of Kansas

LCDR John P. Waggener, NPS

Fuels Alternates:

LCDR Joseph P. Murphy, Commander, U.S. 7th Fleet

LCDR Robert D. Routley, DLA Office of Operations Research and Resource Analysis, Richmond VA
DWCF

Upon completion of their respective fellowships, each selectee will serve a three year follow-on tour in one of our key supply chain management assignments as a key leaders of the supply chain vanguard.

Please join me in congratulating these officers for their selection to represent our Supply Corps in the private sector.
