

Partnership with American Corporate Partners (ACP)

American Corporate Partners (ACP) is a national nonprofit organization focused on helping veterans, transitioning military members and active-duty military spouses find their next careers through year-long, customized, one-on-one mentorships. ACP provides career counseling and networking opportunities—focusing on meaningful employment opportunities for veterans, and developing long-term career and professional goals. ACP connects vets with professionals participating through their organization's partnership with ACP.

ACP's staff supports the program with customized resources and training to assist pairs in building a successful relationship, many of which carry on well beyond the defined year. It begins through a personalized pairing process where ACP's staff carefully selects a mentor for each protégé based on career compatibility, experience level, location, and personal interests. ACP has served hundreds of Navy veterans, active-duty Sailors, and spouses of active duty service members. Currently, there are more than 1,400 active-duty Sailors and Marines and Reservists enrolled.

With more than 20,000 success stories from veterans who had positive experiences during their mentorships, ACP's customized program is designed to assist you on the path toward rewarding, meaningful employment. To determine if an ACP mentorship is right for you, visit acp-usa.org.
